The Word on the Street

"Dad ... it's not safe for you to drive anymore." Learn how adult children and aging parents can deal with tough issues on Wed Sep 23 at 7pm at the First Baptist Church.

In some Australian states, seniors age 75 and up are required to have an annual "medical fitness-to-drive assessment." Should the US have a similar requirement?

◀ "It could be done very easily," says ROBERT MOULAND of Plowville PA, visiting Haddonfield to entertain in Kings Court as part of the Borough's America 250 celebrations. "Just make it a part of each senior's annual Medicare exam."

▲ Everybody says "I'm OK," says TOM PINHO of Rochester MI. "But there comes a time when reactions are slower and decision-making is impaired. A medical assessment would detect those issues."

◀ "Yes," says ISA De JONG. "In the Netherlands, businesses require employees to take a medical exam and a driving test. You feel much safer on the roads. I'd be nervous driving in the US."

▶ "My dad had Alzheimer's in his early '80s," says KEITH GUENTHER of Voorhees. "He was in denial. My sister and I had some tough talks with him about giving up driving. It wasn't easy."

▶ "I'm sure a small percentage of people would see it as an infringement on their liberties," says FRANK DeVRIES of Haaddonfield. "But it's a public health issue, so on balance I think it's appropriate to require an annual competency test."

▲ PEG PINHO of Rochester MI says, "Absolutely. I know some elderly folks with very poor vision who still drive. They won't admit it because they don't want to lose their independence."

Donations sought of personal care items

Each year, the General Federation of Women's Clubs holds a Day of Service for its member clubs. This year, the service provided by the Federation's local member – The Haddon Fortnightly – will be the collection of feminine personal care items for the Anna Sample House Complex in Camden.

This organization provides emergency housing and individualized support including financial planning, access to healthcare services, and workshops on employment, educational resources, and life and parenting skills.

Learn about the beneficiary here: voadv.org/locations/annasample.

The date is Sat Sep 19. The times are 10am to 2pm. And the location is the Fortnightly's clubhouse at the corner of Kings Hwy E and Grove Street.

Contributions may include items such as new full-size shampoos, conditioners, deodorants, face creams, hand creams, toothbrushes, and toothpaste.

Books galore!

› Haddonfield Friends of the Library will hold their annual two-day book sale on Sat Sep 26 from 10am to 5om and Sun Sep 27 from 10am to 1pm.

The location will be the Masonic Temple at the Speedline end of Kings Hwy E.

The event will coincide with Downtown Haddonfield's Autumn Corral event.

Items for sale will include thousands of hardbacks, paperbacks, cookbooks, children's books, and other media. Most books will be priced under $3.

Specially priced items will also be available, along with Haddonfield gifts and merchandise.

Stocks will be replenished throughout the sale on both days.

Donations of books in good condition will be accepted until Sun Sep 20 at the Public Library and at three convenient Haddonfield porches: 300 Walnut Street, 108 Jefferson Ave, and 411 Belmont Ave.

Current members of the Friends of the Library are invited to a Member Preview Sale and Reception on Fri Sep 25 from 6 to 7:30pm.

Enjoy an evening with fellow book-lovers, and snacks and desserts provided by local businesses. (Note that scanners may not be used at the Member Preview Sale.)

To become a Friend, go to hfol.org/support, or join at the event.

Proceeds will benefit the Public Library.

Are you age 40? Or 70? If so, read this!

The "40/70 Rule" states that if you're age 40 (or so) and your parents are age 70 (or so), it's time to have a chat about their future (and yours).

But how do you start what may be a difficult conversation? What topics should you raise? How should you handle push-back from parents or siblings? Where can you get advice? What resources are available? What's Step One? How do you tell your mother or father it's time for them to give up driving? Or that they need to move to a new residence where they'll be safe, and cared for?

The presenters will be:

- Linda Goldberg – Lotus Elder Care & Counseling; Aging Life Care Association
- Grayson Heberley – Elder law attorney
- Adam Puff – Financial planner, Haddonfield Financial Planning
- Lois Edmund – Downsizing specialist. Seniors on the Move
- Addy Schultz – Former adult child / Current aging parent (moderator).

The forum is free, although donations to help fund similar events in the future will be appreciated.

This is the sixth Community Conversation that Post 38 has sponsored since the series was launched last September. Past topics included: PTSD ("It's not just a military matter"); interviews with three 100-year-old World War II veterans – their stories were told by three Memorial High School students; breast cancer; human trafficking; and artificial intelligence in education.

Planners are considering having Service Dogs as the theme for a future Community Conversation.

Piano trio

› Music by Mozart, George Gershwin, and Amy Beach will be featured during a Piano Trio concert at the First Baptist Church on Sun Sep 26 at 3pm.

Providing the "Music for Pleasure" will be Norma Meyer (piano), Bruce Erwin (violin), and Joanne Erwin (cello).

Donations welcome.

In it to win it!

› The Haddon Fortnightly is offering two opportunities to win big on Fri Oct 2, and to have fun at the same time.

- Option 1: Play 20 rounds of bunco; or
- Option 2: Play 10 rounds of bingo for cash prizes.

And there will be a 50/50 and baskets to bid on.

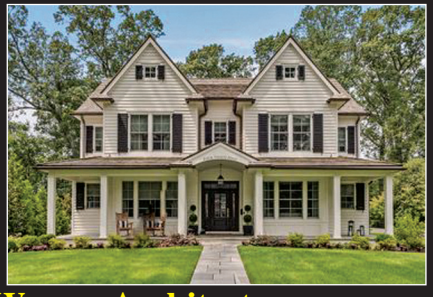

Those attending are welcome to bring their own food and drink. Bring a food bank contribution and you'll will receive a bonus bingo sheet or an extra bunco door prize ticket.

Doors open at 6:15pm. Games start at 6:45pm.

Author talks – online, free!

› Coming up online – live and free – courtesy of Haddonfield Friends of the Library: Discussions of their work by best-selling authors.

• Tue Sep 8 at 7pm.

• Tue Sep 15 at 4pm.

Join renowned master facilitator Priya Parker. In her groundbreaking new book, The Art of Fighting: The Transformative Power of Conflict, she explains that we can't form and grow effective relationships without a fight. She rejects the idea that conflict is abnormal or that good groups don't fight. All groups change and evolve; indeed, it's because people disagree that good groups flourish.

Holiday trash

› Borough offices will be closed on Mon Sep 7 in observance of Labor Day.

Monday's trash and recycling will be postponed to Tuesday.

Also closed: The Public Library, Mabel Kay Senior Center, Post Office, public and parochial schools, and banks.

Hum, don't blow

› The Golden Kazoo Band, based at the Mabel Kay Senior Center, became wildly popular in Haddonfield during its inaugural year and is now working hard to become "world-renowned."

An end-of-summer-information session for prospective new members was held on Tue Sep 1. The group has scheduled weekly get-togethers to which all interested seniors are invited: Tuesdays from 11:15am to 12:15pm at the Senior Center.

The Golden Kazoo band is perfect for those who don't take themselves too seriously and for those who want to take themselves less seriously.

Show up whenever you can. And plan to have fun.

Run for vision

› The Lions Club's annual Octoberfest 5K cross country run will be held on Sat Oct 17 at 9am. Start and finish lines are at the softball field in the Maria Barnaby Greenwald Memorial Park, Park Blvd, Cherry Hill. Parking on site. Early-bird registration fee, until Wed Sep 30, is $30.

Visually impaired runners are welcome to participate in the event with a guide or guide dog. Guides will be available.

After the awards ceremony, which will take at the race site, participants will be welcomed at King's Road Brewing Co in downtown Haddonfield.

Register for LIONS 5K

To register, go here – bit.ly/468dDVo – or scan the QR ◄.

Lions clubs throughout the world work to minimize the progression of vision impairment and to prevent the loss of sight. Since early detection and intervention can make a real difference, Lions advocate for regular vision screenings for all ages. HaddonfieldLions.org

Are you ready for ... Harvest Week?

› Celebrate the arrival of fall with five days of food, shopping, family activities, and community events throughout Downtown Haddonfield, Wed Sep 23 thru Sun Sep 27.

• Restaurant Week – Enjoy prix fixe menus, weekly specials, and discounts at participating restaurants throughout the week. It is the perfect opportunity to dine local and experience some of the best food Downtown Haddonfield has to offer.

• Autumn Corral – Bring the family downtown on Sat Sep 26 from 11am to 3pm for an early afternoon of fall fun at Autumn Corral, featuring: pie eating contest, dog costume contest, live DJ, Art Alley, an acorn hunt and paint, free face painting and the Book Sale hosted by Haddonfield Friends of the Library.

Downtown merchants will also have the opportunity to display products directly in front of their stores, run special promotions, and give shoppers even more reasons to explore and shop local.

• Borough Block Party – Harvest Week culminates on Sat Sep 26 with an evening of family-friendly fun. It's the Borough Block Party (rescheduled from Jul 3), featuring more than 20 games, food trucks, free face painting, and live music from Born to Run Down the Dream.

Kings Hwy E will be closed from Haddon Ave to the Speedline.

Late afternoon and evening: 3:30pm to 7:30pm.

• Drone Show – At 7:20pm, look to the sky above Kings Highway for a spectacular drone show featuring America 250 imagery – a memorable finale to Harvest Week.

The Drone Show viewing area will be on Kings Hwy E between Haddon Ave and Chestnut Street.

Make a day of it – or make a week of it!

Dine local, shop local, bring the family, bring your pup, and celebrate fall in Downtown Haddonfield.

Grieving?

› A nationwide support group that comforts and helps those who have suffered a loss or who are grieving is offered at the First Baptist Church.

The group meets each Monday from 6:30 to 8:30pm. A new series of meetings will start on Tue Sep 22.

GriefShare is a safe, welcoming place where participants will discover what to expect in the days ahead and what's "normal."

Since there are no neat, orderly stages of grief, participants will learn helpful ways of coping and dealing with unpredictability – and gain solid support each step of the way.

Learn more about the program and register at GriefShare.org or scan the QR code ▶.

Time to dine

› Having observed its popularity in the spring, the Partnership for Haddonfield will sponsor a Restaurant Week in the fall.

The dates are Tue Sep 23 thru Sun Sep 27.

Restaurants, bakeries, eateries, and coffee shops throughout Downtown Haddonfield will offer special promotions, including enticing prix fixe menus, generous discounts, and exclusive specials available only during Fall Restaurant Week.

Revisit a favorite venue or try somewhere new. Either way, Fall Restaurant Week is the perfect opportunity to dine, explore, and experience all that Downtown Haddonfield has to offer.

Green thumb?

› The Garden Club will meet at the Lutheran Church on Tue Sep 8.

Refreshments and Social from 12n; speaker at 12:30pm.

Joel Mott, a program specialist for the NJ Pinelands Commission, will discuss the legendary Pine Barrens, its history, wildlife, plants, food production, and recreational opportunities.

He will also describe his experiences of living and working in this national treasure for many years.

The program is free and all are welcome.

The Garden Club asks those who attend to bring a donation of a non-perishable food item for the church's pantry.

Calling all nonprofits!

› Haddonfield community organizations that wish to participate in Fall Festival on Sat Oct 3 should register now. The Early-Bird deadline is Tue Sep 15. Until then the fee is $35. It gets you a spot on the Kings Hwy sidewalks, a table, cover, and two chairs. The fee after Tue Sep 15 is $50.

You can download the registration form, or register and pay online, at HaddonfieldLions.org. Questions? Email fallfestival08033@gmail.com.

For many years, Fall Festival on a Saturday in downtown Haddonfield was a valued opportunity for the town's non-profit organizations to connect with the community.

Sponsored by the Borough, the event included a craft show on Tanner Street that helped draw many thousands of visitors from near and far.

Nonprofits, sports organizations, Borough boards and commissions, and the School District set up tables and exhibits on the Kings Hwy sidewalks, providing information to passers-by about their activities and programs, recruiting members, and selling merchandise.

After a hiatus of several years, the Lions Club stepped up and brought back a very successful Fall Festival along traditional lines in 2025.

Mark your calendars for Sat Oct 3!

The presenting sponsor for this year's event is Cherry Hill Imports Auto Group (Mercedes, Audi, Porsche, VW, and Land Rover).

PARTNERSHIP FOR HADDONFIELD

Open Position for Haddonfield Residents on Board of Directors

The Borough of Haddonfield is seeking to fill two resident positions on the Board of Directors of the Partnership for Haddonfield (PfH).

The Partnership is the volunteer management corporation for Haddonfield's Business Improvement District. PfH works to support and promote Haddonfield's retail, restaurant, and professional business community while strengthening and growing a vibrant downtown.

The mission of PfH is to improve and bring awareness to Downtown Haddonfield by increasing foot traffic, attracting visitors and shoppers, and helping local businesses flourish. PfH serves as a liaison between the Borough and the business community, supporting downtown through events, beautification, marketing, and programs.

Resident Board Member Expectations

About 24 to 30 volunteer hours per year (12 hours for in-person Board meetings, 8 hours for subcommittee meetings, and 4 to 8 hours supporting PfH events and initiatives).

Service on at least one subcommittee during the term, with opportunities to participate on multiple committees.

Board members are required to report income and property interests annually, as required by the State of New Jersey.

Interested?

To volunteer, fill out the form on the Borough website, here: bit.ly/4gv2wf1. Or scan the QR code.

"Every Day is a Gift"

Got "treasures" in your attic?

› The 65 Club will be participating in the Lions Club's Flea Market on Sat Sep 12 (8am to 2pm). As in past years, 65-ers will be happy to accept donations of unwanted new or gently used household items to sell at the market. They thank all who responded promptly to previous notices in Haddonfield Today.

Think: sports equipment, bikes, toys, yard/garden items, paintings, frames, small furniture, small appliances, tools, etc. (Note: The 65 Club cannot accept broken, expired, or soiled items; ripped, stained, or pet-damaged upholstery; broken furniture; or lighting that doesn't work.)

To schedule a pick-up, email Chuck Kanupke at chuckkanupke@verizon.net or leave a message (name, address, phone number) at 609-636-4620.

The 65 Club will donate your unwanted books to Book Smiles, a Pennsauken-based organization that promotes childhood literacy, inspires readers, supports educators, and strengthens communities.

Back to thrift!

› The Grace Thrift Shop's summer hiatus is about to end. The popular and freshly stocked haunt, in the basement below the church, will reopen on Fri Sep 11 at 10am.

Hours are Fridays and Saturdays 10 am to 4 pm.

Changes to trash collection

› The commissioners have put new rules in place for the collection of large and bulky items (defined as weighing no more than 50 pounds and being no longer than seven feet).

Up to two such items will now be collected on regular trash days – only! – during the second week of each month.

The Borough will no longer offer "courtesy move-out" collections. Homeowners and renters must make private arrangements for the removal of bulky items as part of the move-out process.

For the complete rules regarding the collection of bulks items, go here – bit.ly/4ynox5P – or scan ►.

After several centuries, "The Alley" gets a name

By Matt Skoufalos / August 24, 2026

Anne Hitchner has spent the last 62 years in her Colonial Avenue home on the edge of downtown Haddonfield.

Unlike much of the rest of the borough, the houses there don't all have private driveways or access to street parking for their vehicles.

Some families whose addresses include frontage on Colonial Avenue and Grove Street rely on a two-block-long pathway that is also bordered by Willits Avenue and Lake Street.

The gravel road dead-ends behind a garage just steps away from Kings Highway on one end and Lake Street on another.

Where it touches the rear entrances of several properties, it's the only place that some can park their vehicles, or access a roadway to the main streets.

For the decades that Hitchner and her family lived there, the only complication was the occasional driver trying to avoid traffic at the major county intersection nearby.

Her son, John, remembers the pathway as a ... ◄.

Hot flashes?

› What happens when fantasy meets 50-something reality?

Find out, when Haddonfield Plays & Players presents Marrying George Clooney: Confessions from a Midlife Crisis on Fri Sep 4, Sat Sep 5, and Sun Sep 6.

Written by Amy Ferris, Ken Ferris, and Krista Lyons, this sharp-witted, satirical play is adapted from Amy Ferris's bestselling memoir of the same name.

Raw, humorous, and deeply relatable, the play explores the realities of aging, menopause, insomnia, family trauma, and self-discovery.

It follows a menopausal woman who – wide awake at 3am – googles former boyfriends and fantasizes about what her life would be like if she had married George Clooney ... all in addition to dealing with a mother who has dementia, an estranged brother, and a frisky hubby.

Equal parts comedy and confession, this relatable, empowering production reminds us that it's never too late to rewrite the script of our lives.

Show times are 8pm on Fri and Sat; 3pm on Sun;

Rogues' gallery at Greenfield Hall

› Framed photographs of 19 former mayors of Haddonfield are on display in Greenfield Hall – home of the Historical Society – Mon, Wed, Thu from 1 to 4pm thru Thu Oct 15. They include an informal photograph of the first mayor, J. Morris Roberts, who served from 1898 to 1910 and of the first female mayor, Letitia G. Colombi, served from 2001 to 2013.

To provide context, the exhibit includes a map of Haddonfield that shows the borough's borders in 1875; a fact sheet that explains Haddonfield's 1875 break from Haddon Township and the elected official's responsibilities; and a census list that shows the population growth of Haddonfield over time.

Before being donated recently to the Society by the Borough commissioners, the photographs were displayed in Room 102 at the Borough Hall.

After the exhibit closes, they will be transferred to the Patricia Lennon Archives Center, behind Greenfield Hall.

Blood Drive

› The American Red Cross will hold a blood drive at the Grace Church on Sat Sep 19 from 9am to 2pm.

To register for a specific time slot, go here – bit.ly/45xTrwX – or call 800-733-2767.

The event is also sponsored by the Church and American Legion Post 38.

Schedule a BLOOD DRIVE time

Fortnightly flea

› Antiques, collectibles, plants, jewelry, clothing, baked goods, holiday items, electronics, furniture, and more will be available for purchase during The Haddonfield Fortnightly EMD's annual "Flea Market Treasures" event on Sat Oct 17.

Senior Trivia

› Is your noggin filled with obscure knowledge? Trivia with Jay at the Mabel Kay Senior Center – second and fourth Thursdays from 2 to 3:30pm – is for you!

And bragging rights!

Get grandpa out of the house!

› Do you have a family member, friend, or neighbor who is male, retired, and a Haddonfield resident? If so, encourage him to head to King's Road Brewing Co. between 1:30 and 3:30pm on Oct 8 for pizza, beer, and conversation with his peers. Members of the 65 Club will be there, looking to share their love for the club and to encourage other retired male residents to join.

The group meets at 110 Rhoads Ave each Thursday at 1:30pm. Most weeks, there's a guest speaker. On other weekdays, members play bridge, pinochle, and go bowling. There's a golf outing each Wednesday, and occasional road trips, with spouses, to entertainment venues.

There's no need to register, although Mike Barr would love to know in advance if you plan to attend. Email prezbarr@gmail.com.

Note: Spouses are welcome at the Pizza & Pints event. And why not bring an eligible friend? The web address is: haddon65club.blogspot.com.

Bluegrass, jazz

› The Public Library is teeing up two music concerts in September: bluegrass presented by Fish & Whistle on Sun Sep 20 from 4:30 to 5:30pm; and bluegrass and gypsy jazz, presented by the Blue Jersey Band on Thu Sep 24 from 6 to 7:30pm.

Both concerts will be on the Library Point lawn, weather permitting (otherwise, indoors).

Take your picnic blankets or lawn chairs and enjoy late-afternoon concerts featuring guitar, mandolin, banjo, and upright bass.

Tee time: Golf for a good cause

› It's time to register for the annual golf outing to benefit the Brad Wilby Memorial Foundation. The date is Fri Oct 9, and the venue this year is the Ramblewood Country Club in Mount Laurel. Shotgun start at 8am.

A Haddonfield resident, Brad Wilby was passionate about sport and compassionate towards others. He died suddenly at age 25 from an undiagnosed and little-understood condition to which teenagers and young adults are particularly vulnerable: arrhythmogenic right ventricular cardiomyopathy (ARVC). The mission of the foundation is to promote awareness of ARVC and sudden cardiac arrest, to provide accessible AEDs for local facilities, and to provide scholarships to graduating high school seniors.

The fee is $150 per golfer. Registration is requested by Thu Oct 1.

Send checks payable to Brad Wilby Memorial Foundation to PO Box 452, Haddonfield NJ 08033. BradWilby.org

Bloody bakery

› Benjamin Barker, a barber, returns to his Victorian London home from 15 years of wrongful imprisonment.

With a new name – Sweeney Todd – he vows revenge against the corrupt Judge Turpin, who framed him in order to pursue Todd's wife, Lucy, and now keeps their daughter, Johanna, as his ward.

Reopening his barber shop above Mrs Lovett's pie shop, Todd first targets Turpin and his accomplice, Beadle Bamford. When his chance for revenge is thwarted, his obsession descends into indiscriminate murder.

Lovett disposes of his victims by baking them into meat pies, and the grisly enterprise prospers.

Meanwhile, sailor Anthony Hope schemes to rescue Johanna. Todd eventually kills Turpin, only to discover that the beggar woman he murdered moments earlier was Lucy, who had survived. After killing Lovett for concealing the truth, Todd is ...

Well, you'll find out, as a member of the audience at Haddonfield Plays & Players' next mainstage production, Sweeney Todd, set to open at 8pm on Fri Sep 25.

Tickets are $32 and may be purchased online here – bit.ly/4fyXa1S – or scan the QR code ◄.

The show will run on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights at 8pm, with Sunday matinees at 2pm, thru Sat Oct 10.

Borough gets a donation of lifesaving AEDs

Extracted from article by Abigail Twyford in The Sun

Haddonfield recently received a donation of three Automated External Defibrillators (AEDs), devices critical in sudden cardiac emergencies.

The devices came from the Brad Wilby Memorial Foundation, named for Haddonfield Memorial High School athlete Brad Wilby, who suffered cardiac arrest while coaching soccer at New York's Hobart College in 2006. He died at 25.

The foundation's mission is to make AEDs publicly accessible and provide scholarships in Brad's memory. The three AEDs donated to the borough will be placed in public and recreational areas.

The Last Word

New: Haddonfield events at your fingertips

By David Hunter, publisher

Six years and six months ago – in March 2020 – as individuals, families, community groups, houses of worship, institutions, and governments around the world grappled with new realities imposed by a novel coronavirus, we did something we'd studiously stayed away from during nearly 30 years of publishing community magazines.

We launched a website.

We wrote in Haddonfield Today at the time: "This is new territory for us. We've avoided the digital world for one very good reason: we've never been able to figure out how to inhabit it profitably. (Incidentally, we've never met a publisher at the local level who has.) But, given the times, we have decided to try."

For years, we'd had in the back of our minds – and on a pin board in our office – words by the American linguist and author Geoffrey Nunberg, published in The New York Times in May 2003: "... the Web is a tool that enables people who have a life to benefit from the efforts of those who don't."

Almost daily during the first year of the pandemic, we used our new website – Haddonfield.Today – to publish news about COVID-19's effects on our community.

Camden County officials announced today that a second Haddonfield resident, a man in his 20s, has tested positive for new coronavirus. Haddonfield's first case, a man in his 40s, was hospitalized last week. Officials also reported Camden County's first death, of a Barrington woman in her 80s.

Our coverage culminated in these posts in mid-April 2021:

The addition on Friday of a female in her 80s to the list of Haddonfield residents who have succumbed to the novel coronavirus ... brings Haddonfield's death toll to 15.

And: On Monday, April 19, 2021, students in Haddonfield Public Schools will return to school, full-time, in-person, for the first time in a year.

As Haddonfield gingerly emerged from the strangest year in living memory, with the Borough and Board of Education holding in-person meetings again, community groups holding events again, and businesses opening their doors – and advertising again! – we geared down our digital publication and geared up its print companion.

The Web has evolved greatly since Geoffrey Nunberg made his sardonic observation more than 20 years ago, and since we returned to our roots, five years ago.

It's changed to such an extent that I can now announce that haddonfield.today is back. It's been given new life by a friend and colleague, Linda Hochgertel. As chief technology officer for a major medical publishing company and a longtime and active resident of Haddonfield – she's vice president of the school board; her husband Bob is a co-owner and the managing director of King's Road Brewing Company – Linda brings to our collaboration something I don't possess: vast experience in the digital world.

She's created a resource that enables users to see at a glance what's on in Haddonfield today, tomorrow, next week, and beyond. Unlike the magazine, which is published every three weeks, haddonfield.today can be updated on the fly, ensuring that those who live, work, learn, play, worship, and visit in Haddonfield will have easy access to up-to-date details of coming events in our community.

haddonfield.today will not replace the printed magazine, by any means. Rather, it will serve as a digital companion that enhances the print product we've been publishing for – believe it or not – nearly 35 years.

We're excited about it, and we hope you will be too. Check it out, here:
